

RADICAL CHANGE, NOT ONLY RESISTANCE

Radical criticism of our various "societies" and of the numerous struggles against oppression is all very well, but the important challenge remains: how to live differently, to begin here and now to build a viable collective and individual Utopia, free from all hierarchy, violence and exploitation.

Fundamentally, it is all related and it is up to us to find a way to change everything at once. A global utopian vision and community with all of humanity is both possible and desirable.

But for this to be achieved, we need both individual awakenings which embrace all these realities, and that this Utopia should be based upon God, Anarchism and Communism.

A God removed from the churches and intermediaries ("sacred" books or ministers), from all dogma and archaisms hawked by the religions.

An Anarchism released from the traps of violence, from waiting for a spontaneous general uprising and from the narrowness of complete individualism.

A Communism without the totalitarian crushing of individuals, the prisons of endless work or productivism.

God for the deep spiritual dimension that is founded upon love, freedom, equality and unity, that makes it possible to imagine a communal project for all humanity.

Anarchism for its radical critical analyses, for the freedom and the importance of every single person.

Communism for the ideas of equality and collective organization without States, classes or property.

Only the alliance of these three sources of thought and human action are able to bear the real fruits of another world.

All can become possible for people engaged in this revolutionary way:

To live freely, without hierarchy or class, to go beyond the binary oppositions of man/woman/others and sexual orientation, to develop a brotherly communal life, the creation of networks of exchange and united action, the beginning of direct and federal democracy, attention to other animals to enable us to move beyond speciesism, a new relation with the planet for a project of co-evolution, equal distribution of benefits and goods, and so on.

Far better this than to fight indefinitely for tiny precarious advances in this or that field.

Why not achieve everything in one stroke?

It is up to you alone to act and to reflect upon this...

Association Communauté de la Thébaïde - 38940 Roybon
> Books and texts on www.mutations-radicales.org

RADICAL CHANGE, NOT ONLY RESISTANCE

Radical criticism of our various "societies" and of the numerous struggles against oppression is all very well, but the important challenge remains: how to live differently, to begin here and now to build a viable collective and individual Utopia, free from all hierarchy, violence and exploitation.

Fundamentally, it is all related and it is up to us to find a way to change everything at once. A global utopian vision and community with all of humanity is both possible and desirable.

But for this to be achieved, we need both individual awakenings which embrace all these realities, and that this Utopia should be based upon God, Anarchism and Communism.

A God removed from the churches and intermediaries ("sacred" books or ministers), from all dogma and archaisms hawked by the religions.

An Anarchism released from the traps of violence, from waiting for a spontaneous general uprising and from the narrowness of complete individualism.

A Communism without the totalitarian crushing of individuals, the prisons of endless work or productivism.

God for the deep spiritual dimension that is founded upon love, freedom, equality and unity, that makes it possible to imagine a communal project for all humanity.

Anarchism for its radical critical analyses, for the freedom and the importance of every single person.

Communism for the ideas of equality and collective organization without States, classes or property.

Only the alliance of these three sources of thought and human action are able to bear the real fruits of another world.

All can become possible for people engaged in this revolutionary way:

To live freely, without hierarchy or class, to go beyond the binary oppositions of man/woman/others and sexual orientation, to develop a brotherly communal life, the creation of networks of exchange and united action, the beginning of direct and federal democracy, attention to other animals to enable us to move beyond speciesism, a new relation with the planet for a project of co-evolution, equal distribution of benefits and goods, and so on.

Far better this than to fight indefinitely for tiny precarious advances in this or that field.

Why not achieve everything in one stroke?

It is up to you alone to act and to reflect upon this...

Association Communauté de la Thébaïde - 38940 Roybon
> Books and texts on www.mutations-radicales.org